FIVE MUSEUMS FOR THE GAMES A PUZZLE ADVENTURE

AT THE MUSÉE DU QUAI BRANLY – JACQUES CHIRAC

YOUR MISSION

Five museums need you for a special mission!

In preparation for the Paris 2024 Olympic Games, the Centre Pompidou, the Louvre, the Musée d'Orsay, the Musée de l'Orangerie and the Musée du quai Branly – Jacques Chirac have been studying a manuscript written by the founder of the modern Games, Pierre de Coubertin. The document contains five secret sentences. One thing is certain: each sentence is connected to a museum and derives its meaning from a strong tie between sport and culture.

Your mission, should you choose to accept it, is to help each museum find the meaning of its secret sentence with the help of this sleuthing team:

ADAM

WILLIAM

MÉLODIE

MEG

Each of them thinks they have deciphered the manuscript. But who has the correct answer?

Find out by completing seven challenges based on artworks at each museum. Solve each puzzle to disqualify a team member and discover who has the correct answer.

The most determined players could be rewarded in a prize draw.

Keep up the pace

The fun isn't over! Complete the puzzle adventures at the four other museums to increase your chance of winning in the draw! Use the five secret sentences to write a final message on the puzzle passport.

Fun fact

The three Olympic values are friendship, respect and excellence. The four values added by the Paralympic movement are courage, determination, inspiration and equality. These values will help you in your mission!

GAME RULES

Welcome to the musée du quai Branly - Jacques Chirac!

This museum is a fascinating dive into extra-European arts and civilizations.

The location of each challenge in your adventure is indicated by a symbol, found on the map on page 4.

TO SOLVE THE PUZZLES, YOU WILL NEED TO:

- be in front of the artworks
  - be observant
  - have a pencil
  - don't run
  - don't touch the artwork

Set off to find them in whatever order you like! Use each correct answer to eliminate the secret sentence of a sleuth at the end of the booklet. Watch out! One of the sleuths will be disqualified twice.

The last sleuth left after completing the seven challenges has the correct answer.

To enter the draw, write the number of the correct secret sentence on your coupon and deposit it in the ballot box at the reception desk in the lobby. Deadline: June 2. Good luck!

SLEUTHING TIP

The bow of this boat was used to decorate the front of a racing canoe. Leonard, a para rower, is determined to row down the river that winds through the pages of this booklet and between the works at the museum.

Turn the pages to follow the green and blue rivers: one leads you to the sleuth to disqualify.

Who is it? Three animals on the bow are here to help! They'll lead you to the sleuth whose sentence must be eliminated.

Like the athletes painted on this wall hanging, our friends excel in the art of balance.

This Iranian discipline, a combination of wrestling, strength, flexibility and agility, is still practiced today.

The gymnast's outfit below in the display case is no longer worn today, but it does hold a clue to find the number of a secret sentence to eliminate at the end of the booklet.

Study the outfit carefully. Its patterns inspired one of the two sets of cubes held by Céleste, at the top of the pyramid.

Count the number of cubes in the correct pile and use that number to eliminate a secret sentence.

The small boat in front of you was vital to travel, hunt and fish in the waters of northern America.

Look carefully at the spelling of the boat's name, which is a palindrome: a word that reads the same backwards and forwards!

We asked Martine and Adam to start the conversation. Which of them uses a palindrome? Find it by reading both words in both directions.

The sleuth who used a palindrome does not have the correct secret sentence. Eliminate it from those remaining at the end of the booklet.

Looking for inspiration, William has thrown a boomerang, traditionally used by the Aboriginal peoples of Australia to hunt and fight. William hopes that the sculpted stick he chose will come back with a clue to help him solve the puzzle!

The boomerang has returned with a series of numbers.

Cross out the numbers below that are engraved on one of the boomerangs in the display case.

The last number left is the solution: the number of the secret sentence to eliminate on the last page of the booklet!

Leonard reads the game rules and looks at the map and the vacant podium. It makes no sense. Yet, he remains convinced this is the correct location!

Scan through the booklet to find two sleuths in the same position as the wrestlers in front of you.

Originally used in the Marquesas Islands, stilts served multiple purposes such as crossing waterways, dancing, and involved in ceremonies for young men.

Tear the page carefully along the blue dotted line and then use the yellow dotted lines to fold the page twice inwards. The sleuths are now sporting new stilts!

TEAR HERE

Disqualify the sleuth whose stilts most closely resemble those in the display case as he doesn't have the correct answer.

The number or sleuth to disqualify:

Head to the room adjacent to the Music Box. Upon entering, position yourself to face the armor. The combat techniques of the warriors who wore this equipment have influenced numerous modern martial arts, some of which are now featured in Olympic and Paralympic events. To pay tribute to the educational and athletic values they embody, Meg, Céleste and Léonard have opted to incorporate specific elements from the armor on the right into their attire.

Examine them closely and count the number of details you spot in the sleuths' outfits. Beware of any tricks!

Found two?
Eliminate secret
sentence # 2!
